Recognizing Signs of Hypertension in Pregnancy

High blood pressure during pregnancy, known as gestational hypertension or preeclampsia, can pose risks to both the mother and the baby. It's essential to recognize the warning signs early to prevent complications. Some key symptoms include:

- Persistent headaches
- Vision problems (blurry or light sensitivity)
- Swelling in hands, face, or feet

- Shortness of breath
- Nausea or vomiting in later pregnancy
- Sudden weight gain
- Upper abdominal pain

At Lifetime Primary Care, we offer specialized maternal health services to monitor and manage high blood pressure during pregnancy, ensuring the safety of both mother and child.
