Affordable Pet Vaccines Services Near You

INTRODUCTION

Keeping your beloved pet healthy involves more than just food and exercise vaccinations are crucial for preventing serious diseases. At Pettik, our Pet Vaccination Service provides expert care and high-quality vaccines right here in Delhi, ensuring your pet's long-term well-being and a healthier, happier life.

WHY PET VACCINATION NEEDED?

Pet vaccination is a vital step in protecting your companions from serious and potentially fatal diseases. Vaccines work by safely introducing a weakened or inactive form of disease-causing viruses or bacteria to your pet's immune system. This allows their body to develop antibodies, building a strong defense against future exposure. We categorize vaccines into two types: core vaccines, which are essential for all pets, and non-core vaccines, recommended based on individual risk factors and lifestyle.
